Re: Public Consultation on the Irish Household Waste Collection Market

Dear

Further to the publication of the above referenced Consultation document, Indaver Ireland is pleased to be afforded an opportunity to provide a succinct response to this important and timely Public Consultation.

Whilst the vast majority of questions raised in the Consultation paper do not relate directly to Indaver's business activities, Indaver actively engages with those involved in the waste collection market on an ongoing basis.

As such, Indaver would like to express support for the position set out by the Irish Waste Management (IWMA) as the representative body of members that are involved in this market.

Yours Sincerely,

Jackie Keaney
