Hi there, we hope that you and your loved ones are safe and well.

In this month's newsletter we look at the checks you should do before buying a used car, the easy way to switch your bank account and more. Remember, you can visit our COVID-19 Information Hub or follow us on social media to keep up with the latest consumer news.

Looking for a used car?

Every used car has a story to tell...

Unfortunately, some sellers don't tell buyers the half of it. Or, they simply don't know the half of it. Make sure you know the full story before buying one!

Use the CCPC car checks page, and know what to look for.

Consumer contracts and services

When you buy or use a service, you have rights. Consumer contracts may have certain terms and conditions which apply. When you sign up, you agree to these terms and conditions so make sure you read, understand and are happy with them.

Your questions answered

Every month we receive questions from consumers about their rights when things go wrong. We publish some examples online, but here's just one...

Q: My eldest daughter just started her first year of university at the end of September. Although she will still be living at home with us, between text books, stationery and a new laptop, the costs seem to be mounting.
